

What Happened

Canada Revenue Agency announced in the 2018 federal budget that in 2019 it would replace the TL11B with the T2202. While not substantially different from the TL11B, the T2202 does bring significant changes to how you report tuition payments:

- The student's Social Insurance Number (SIN) must be included on the T2202; the Income Tax Act requires that a reasonable effort be made to obtain student SINs.
- A T2202 return summary, reporting the totals of all slips in a T2202 return, is required; each training entity or club will typically have its own T2202 return.
- T2202 slips must be distributed to their recipients by February 28th of the year following the taxation year.
- T2202 slip and summary data must be electronically submitted in XML format to Canada Revenue Agency by February 28th of the year following the taxation year.
- Canada Revenue Agency will apply a late filing penalty to any T2202 return failing to meet the filing deadline of February 28th of the year following the taxation year.

How Can We Help

Our job is to help you do your job better. By offloading the drudgery of data processing and report preparation to our experts, you're freed up to do the work you're best at. After you've uploaded your data (in Excel format) via our secure client portal, we'll:

- Import T2202 data into our system.
- Check T2202 data for gross errors.
- Convert T2202 data into the Canada Revenue Agency XML format.
- Submit the T2202 XML data file to Canada Revenue Agency.
- Prepare T2202 slips for distribution by mail, email or a corporate portal; recipient permission may be required for email and corporate portal slip distribution.
- Provide PDF copies of each return's slips, summary and XML submission confirmation.

Special Bulk Rate For ATAC Members

Our Basic Package (Submit XML to CRA & Provide PDF slips for distribution) costs as little as $1 per slip for up to 1,000 slips (min. $350). Working through ATAC, members can enjoy the advantage of combining multiple T2202 returns to achieve volume price breaks.

What Do You Gain

- How good would it feel not to worry about your T2202 return? We make that happen.
- If we receive data on Monday we can often have it ready to submit and print by Friday.
- Our industrial printing services are more economical than in-house printing, and by combining multiple returns into a single process (Special for ATAC members, see above) we may be able to offer reduced processing, printing and mailing rates.
- We don't print anything unless requested to by our client, and we can even eliminate printing altogether by emailing recipient slips as password protected PDF files!
- You can rest assured that our decades of Canadian tax experience has given us the necessary expertise to process your T2202 returns correctly and on time.
